

EMPLOYEES AGREE TO ARBITRATE DEMANDS

One Indianapolis Traction Line Will Treat With Men—Public Utilities
Commission to Hear Dispute.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 12.—The management and the employees of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Co. Tuesday signed an agreement whereby they propose to arbitrate all differences existing between the men and the company, personally visited 50 of 54 employees and presented the pact for their consideration.

The men, from Henry said, told him they were satisfied with their present working conditions and with the agreement to arbitrate all differences and the reinstatement of all men discharged since the work of unionizing the road was first commenced, they would not consider striking.

The traction company in the agreement signed Tuesday agrees to reinstate the men discharged and to receive a committee of employees at any time they may wish to present grievances. Points that cannot be settled between the committee and the company are to be submitted to the public service commission and the decision of that body to be binding upon both parties for three years.

The agreement practically is the same as that reached in settling the street car strike here last Friday.

Pres. Henry was highly commended by Gov. Ralston for the action he took in the interurban troubles and complimented upon the success of his visit to the men.

The grievances of the Union traction men will be presented to Pres. R. I. Todd of the Indianapolis Terminal & Traction Co. Wednesday.

Two meetings of the men were held at the Labor temple here Tuesday night at which the agreement was read.

Union leaders refused to divulge what demands would be made of the company.

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe, misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops mucus discharge, or nose running, relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and sniffling. Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else before you gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine. —Advt.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 12.—The American Federation of Labor Tuesday refused to accept the credentials of Jacob Tazelaar, a delegate of the Painters Paperhangers and Decorators' union, and ordered that he be excluded from the floor of the convention hall.

Tazelaar was named by Col. Martin M. Mulhall, former agent of the National Association of Manufacturers, as having been employed by Mulhall to work against the election of Rep. (now Sen.) William Hughes of New Jersey. Mulhall swore before a congressional committee that he paid Tazelaar $1,800 for his services against Hughes, whom the National Association of Manufacturers was seeking to defeat.

HENNESSY MAKES WITNESS COME ACROSS

N. Y. Graft Investigator Gets
One of His Informants to Retract Previous Denials on Stand.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—George H. McGuire of Syracuse, who denied under oath last Thursday that he had sent a telegram to John A. Hennessy, former Gov. Sulzer's graft investigator, relative to political contributions, Thursday admitted that he was the author of the telegram.

A threat of indictment for perjury was hanging over him when the admission fell from his lips and he left the witness stand almost in a state of collapse. A physician was called to attend him.

McGuire was testifying for the second time in the John Doe inquiry instituted by Dist. Atty. Whitman into Hennessy's charges that contractors on state work had been "sand-bagged" into making campaign contributions to Tammany hall.

Hennessy had testified that he had obtained most of his information from McGuire and that the latter had sent him a telegram from Syracuse signed "M." setting forth that William H. Kelly, democratic leader of Onondaga county, had been helping Arthur A. McLean, treasurer of the democratic state committee to "shake down" state highway contractors. McGuire on Thursday last unequivocally denied that he had anything to do with the telegram.

Three Witnesses Heard.

Tuesday Dist. Atty. Whitman sent before the grand jury three witnesses who gave testimony to show that McGuire had not told the truth. One of these was Miss Ollie Collier, a stenographer in McGuire's office; another was a typewriter expert, who took with him a typewriter which had been brought from McGuire's office. The stenographer testified, it is understood, that the machine was one which McGuire himself frequently used, and the expert declared that the letters on the original of the telegram corresponded in their peculiarities with the letters on the machine.

McGuire was informed at his hotel of the contemplated action of the grand jury and he called on the assistant district attorney general against him and soon afterwards his friends telephoned to Mr. Whitman saying that he had collapsed. They wanted to know, Mr. Whitman said, what he would promise "if McGuire told the truth." The district attorney replied that he would promise nothing but that McGuire would be indicted for perjury if he did not tell the truth.

Admits He Wrote It.

McGuire was shown the original of the telegram as soon as he took the stand and was asked if he had written it.

"Yes," said the witness in scarcely audible tones, "have refreshed my memory; I wrote it."

SAILORS MAY LOSE
THEIR TRIP TO ROME

Men Collected $3,000 and Turned It Over to Alfonso Calderazzo, Former Bandsman, Who Skipped.

ROME, Nov. 12.—The bluejackets of the American battleships Utah and Delaware now at Villefranche and of the Vermont and Ohio at Marseilles, through misplaced confidence, may miss a trip to Rome, for which they have been making preparation.

Alfonso Calderazzo, a former bandsman on the Utah, on recommendation of Chaplain William H. Reaney, was made the custodian of the funds which the sailors set aside for this purpose. He collected in all about $3,000. It was reported to Chaplain Reaney this morning that Calderazzo could not be found.

In the afternoon Gerald A. Griffin, paymaster's clerk of the Utah, arrived at Rome. He said he had met Calderazzo at Ventimiglia, on the Franco-Italian frontier. The latter explained that he would not be able to fulfill his obligations to the sailors, and Griffin urged him to telegraph the captains of the battleships a statement of the situation.

Chaplain Reaney after hearing this story left immediately for Villefranche to ascertain all the facts in the case. He said he would reimburse the sailors if necessary, and added that even the postoffice department would assist him, had entrusted Calderazzo with funds which he had collected from some of the Protestant sailors.

POSTOFFICE EMPLOYEES TO DO LICKING THIS YEAR

Order That is Expected to Save Much Time During Holiday Rush is Issued.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Christmas gives this year will not be forced to lick their stamps when they affix the proper postage to their parcels for mailing, unless they wish, for the postoffice department announced Tuesday that its postmasters and their assistants would attend to that duty if requested.

The innovation is put in force in the interests of better mail service during the holiday rush and is expected to facilitate the movement of the vast crush of matter that will tax the resources of the department's many employees.

Orders were issued Monday to postmasters to affix postage when requested on mail matter of the second, third and fourth class, the latter being parcel post matter. The stamps will be pre-cancelled and the plan is expected to prevent the great waste of time experienced by postoffice patrons while waiting in line to buy postage and mail their packages.

The postmaster general believes his plan will result in a great saving in time to the department as well as to the people.

PANAMA BOAT TO BE FIRST TO TAKE TRIP

Proposed to Send One of the Railroad
Steamers With President's Party Through.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The first deep draft vessel to pass through the Panama canal from ocean to ocean will be one of government of Panama's railroad steamers now plying between New York and Colon, if the plan which Secy. Garrison has in contemplation finally is adopted. The secretary's idea is to allow Col. Goethals all the time he requires to complete the canal and experiment with it before the initial trip is made.

Then, having aboard Pres. Wilson and some of the members of his cabinet, the congressional committee having jurisdiction over the canal, and a few newspaper men, the Panama liner will pass through the waterway from Christobel on the Atlantic side to Balboa at the Pacific entrance.

COUNTRY HELPED BY IMMIGRANTS

Rabbi Cronbach Speaks on "The Melting Pot" at Meeting of Studebaker Civic Club
Tuesday Night.

Rabbi Cronbach of the Temple Beth-El, addressed the members of the Studebaker Civic club at the Studebaker school Tuesday night, taking for his theme a discussion of Zangwell's play, "The Melting Pot." He told the story of the play and recited some of his personal experiences with the immigrants of this country.

"The immigrant makes a good citizen," he said, "Wherever we find the immigrant, his children present an overcoming of parental faults. Every Christian ought to have a Jewish friend. He will find him faithful and loyal. It is not true that the Jew has all the shortcomings ascribed to him. Where he does fall short, he is more likely to do so in dealing with his own people than in his dealing with Christians."

"Christian children would never apply derisive names to their Jewish comrades if they realized what pain and heartache it gives the Jewish child who hears himself thus jeered at."

Rabbi Cronbach also said that it was the vote of the immigrant that helped in a large measure to elect the mayor in the recent city election. His election was highly favored in the ward in which the Studebaker school stands.

LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

BY NORMAN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—New York's most expensive apartment house changed hands a few days ago. Its new owner, Arthur Curtis James, a banker and former commodore of the New York Yacht club, paid $3,500,000 for it.

The building, 12 stories high, is at the corner of Fifth av. and 81st st. When it was opened, about two years ago, it attracted much attention on account of the luxuriousness of its appointments and the high prices, ranging from $12,000 to $25,000 a year, which are asked for its suites.

Among the tenants are Elihu Root, Murry Guggenheim, Levi P. Morton, Mrs. Elliott Shepard, Lloyd Aspinwall and Victor Morawetz. Root has more than 20 rooms, and Guggenheim occupies two entire floors.

A boy stood in front of the court house, across the street from the New York terminus of the Brooklyn bridge, as the morning rush-hour crowd streamed by on its way into the financial district.

He looked to be about 20, was neatly dressed and of prepossessing appearance. Pinned to the front of his faded brown overcoat was a sign, crudely printed on a sheet of paper. It read:

"I Want a Job.
"I am a high school graduate and have spent four years in preparing myself to get employment from some one desiring the services of a capable, energetic young man who can use his head and is not afraid of work. Will you employ me? If so, you will not have cause to regret it."

The boy courageously endured the stares and comments of the people who stopped to read the sign. By and by he was gone. Perhaps he got the chance he was looking for; perhaps a cop chased him away for collecting a crowd.

A New York woman who spent several weeks during the summer at a little village away up in Vermont was so charmed by the little old lady with whom she boarded that when she left she asked her hostess to write to her. She left her visiting card as a memorandum of her address.

A few days ago came a letter, addressed in a prim, old-fashioned script. The address was copied from the card, and in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope the simple word had transcribed "First Thursday."

WILSON WEDDING
CAKE IS COMPLETE

Will be Divided Into 2,000 Pieces and Sent to the Friends of the Bride.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Miss Jessie Wilson's wedding cake was baked here Tuesday.

The first layer of the cake is four inches thick and 22 inches across. When ready for the knife, the cake will weigh 135 pounds and will be two and one-half feet tall, if one counts the vase of white orchids to be placed on top. It will cost about $500 and will contain 19 ingredients. In 2,000 dainty white boxes, tied with satin ribbon, the cake will be distributed, each box the proper size to go under one's pillow to dream upon.

Over the body of the cake will be molded a thick white icing scrollwork. Then to quote the artist who is making it, "There will be a design for the initials of the bride and bridegroom. It will be done in silver, and then there will be little of-the-valley in white sugar on the sides."

GIRLS! STOP WASHING
THE HAIR WITH SOAP

Soap Dries Your Scalp, Causing Dandruff, Then Hair Falls Out.

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanser." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it. —Advt.
